TRAINING

Hey Lofty Presenters (and future presenters).

Lofty's training round for new presenters is going well.

We usually kick off at 6.45pm at the studio each Tuesday evening. This is the training that new presenters must do before they are able to go on air. If you're an established presenter, it would be great to see you there, too, to share your skills and maybe pick up some new ones. If you have a friend who'd like to present a program in the future, please bring them along. If you're after more advanced training in any topic, please let us know so that we can arrange for it to happen. You will hear new presenters (Maggie, Johnny, Brendan, Jayden and JayDee) on your radio over the coming weeks. From the training sub committee Kimberley, Geoff P and Ben

If you know a business, please suggest to them to come on board as a sponsor of Lofty.
